ABSTRACT

The workbook for Ilokano was designed for language training of Peace Corps volunteers in the Philippines. It consists of: a list of commonly-used phrases for greetings, leavetaking, shopping, asking for directions, managing a conversation, and introducing oneself; a more extensive vocabulary/phrase book of words and expressions used in everyday communication, organized by situation and accompanied by English translations; a list of core competencies at three skill levels (beginning, intermediate, advanced), expressed as performance objectives; an Ilokano-to-English glossary; a series of learning modules to help reinforce student learning in formal lessons; and extensive grammar notes. Topics of the learning modules include those needed for community entry, such as socializing, managing conversation, eating, shopping, travelling, and health. Each module includes a variety of exercises for vocabulary development, understanding of language appropriateness, and grammar. Supplementary worksheets on grammatical points and answers to most exercises are also provided. (MSE)

THE LANGUAGE PACKET

INTRODUCTION

To provide assistance to Peace Corps Volunteers in Pre-Service Training, the Language Staff have developed and compiled materials in your target language. This packet contains the following:

- * Core Competencies
- * Learning (TL) Fast
- * Booklet
- * Tape
- * Phrase Book
- * Glossary
- * Workbook
- * Grammar Notes

The Core Competencies were prepared based on recommendations from volunteers who participated in an assessment of the language training, including its curriculum, in the mid 80's. They contain gambits or expressions used in accomplishing a certain real life task. To provide for difference in learning pace basic, intermediate, and advanced gambits were included. These core competencies served as the basis for most materials in this packet.

Learning a (TL) Fast includes basic or commonly used expressions for greetings, leave takings, shopping, asking for directions, managing a conversation and introducing one's self. It also contains a list of pronouns, numbers and time words. An accompanying tape is provided to serve as a model in pronunciation for you.

The Phrase Book contains phrases and expressions in everyday communication and are presented according to situational topics relevant to the life of a Peace Corps Volunteer. An English translation is provided for each gambit to facilitate comprehension of its meaning. It is more extensive in scope compared with Learning (TL) Fast.

The Glossary provides a list of 800 or more words taken from the core competencies that would assist you in your social contacts for community entry. It has an appendix which is a catalog of verb roots to help you understand how a verb is inflected for focus, aspect, or mood.

The Workbook was developed due to the clamor of PCVs for written exercises. It contains varied written activities for vocabulary and grammar reinforcement. It also contains exercises for different levels of learners.

The Grammar Notes explains grammatical points that will assist you in understanding word and sentence structures of a Philippine language. This, in no way, is incomplete. It consists only of those points vital in your understanding of the gambits or vocabulary. It has an appendix which contains a summary of all grammatical points that were introduced and explained in the notes.

With these materials, we hope to make language learning fun and productive for you.

INTRODUCTION

This workbook has been designed to enable the Peace Corps Trainee to reinforce modules he takes up in formal language sessions in written form. This is in response to the varying learning styles that learners prefer. This will cater especially to the needs of the independent learner which is characteristic of most adult language learners.

Modules covered are on Community Entry Language Preparation (CELP) topics such as Socializing, Language to Manage Conversation, Eating, Shopping, Travelling, and Health. Included in each module is a variety of exercises in the areas of vocabulary, gambits and grammar. Supplementary worksheets on different grammatical points are included to give the learner a choice to work on an area he feels he needs to study further. Answers to most exercises are provided for the learner to check his own. Activities calling for varied responses will have to be checked by the language instructor.

Some modules include vocabulary not necessarily taken up in language sessions. This was done since training is so short a time for us to teach everything needed at your site. It is, therefore, suggested that you avail yourself of resources around you like other native speakers at the training site, host families, and printed language materials in getting meaning of words you may not be familiar with. Take up unclear points with your instructor, too.

Lastly, this workbook is based on the theory that students learn to speak the language by listening, speaking, reading and writing, in that order.

Paz B. Meman
Chief Language Coordinator
U.S. Peace Corps/Philippines

Grammar Notes

Part I. Basic Sentence Structures

1. The Ilokano sentence is composed of the OBLIGATORY PREDICATE (+Pred), an OPTIONAL SUBJECT (+Subj), and optional EXPANSIONS (+Expn) of the predicate and the subject. The ordering of these constituents of the sentence is as follows:

Ilokano Sentence = +Pred ±Expn ±Subj ±Expn

Example:

- |                              |                                  |
|------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| a. +Pred                     |                                  |
| Adda ti bagyo.               | 'there is a storm'               |
| Agtudtudo.                   | 'it is raining'                  |
| b. +Pred +Expn               |                                  |
| Adda ti bagyo idiay Ilocos.  | 'there is a storm in Ilocos'     |
| Nalayos ti Buendia.          | 'it's flooded in Buendia'        |
| c. +Pred +Expn +Subj         |                                  |
| PCV si John.                 | 'John is a PCV'                  |
| Matmaturog ti ubing.         | 'the child is sleeping'          |
| d. +Pred +Expn +Subj         |                                  |
| PCV met da Paul.             | 'Paul and company are also       |
| PCVs'                        |                                  |
| Maturog ti ubing intono      |                                  |
| madamdama.                   | 'the child will sleep later'     |
| e. +Pred +Expn +Subj +Expn   |                                  |
| Pudno nga nasam-it ti papaya | 'the papaya in Cagayan is really |
| idiay Cagayan.               | 'sweet'                          |

2. The Subject of an Ilokano sentence

The subject of an Ilokano sentence is composed of a noun phrase marked by the subject marker ti (or its variants ni, dagiti, and da).

2.1. The subject markers may be classified as follows:

- a. for non-personal names : ti (singular), dagiti (plural)
- b. for personal names : ni (singular), da (plural)

The underlined noun phrase below are the subjects of the sentences:

- a. Duktur ni Mike.
'Mike is a doctor.'
- b. Napintas ti Baguio City.
'Baguio City is lovely.'
- c. Mangmangan ti lalaki.
'The man is eating.'
- d. Agad-adal ti Ilokano da Paul ken Susan.
'Paul and Susan are learning Ilokano.'

2.2. The subject noun phrase may be filled by a pronoun. The subject pronouns are summarized in the chart below.

PERSONAL PRONOUNS (SUBJECT SET)

Singular	Pre-clitic	Enclitic
I	Siak	Ak
You	Sika	Ka
He/She	Isuna	Isuna/Isu

Plural
We (dual)	Data/Sita	Ta
We (inclusive)	Datayo/Sitayo	Tayo
We (exclusive)	Dakami/Sikami	Kami
You (plural)	Dakayo/Sikayo	Kayo
They	Isuda	Da

Demonstrative

	Singular	Plural
It, this	daytoy	dagitoy (near speaker)
That	dayta	dagita (near hearer, far from speaker)
That	daydiay	dagidiay (away from both speaker and listener - yonder)

Notice the switch between daytoy and dayta where daytoy refers to something near the speaker (ordinarily within his reach) and dayta refers to something away from the speaker but near the hearer. In some instances dayta may be used to point out that which is not within the reach of either the speaker or the hearer, but somewhere not too far from either one or the other.

The underlined pronouns below are the subjects of the sentence.

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| a. Filipino ak .'I am a Filipino.'         | f. Ayan yo ?'Where are you?'               |
| b. Amerikano ka .'You are an American.'    | g. Gayyem ko isuda .'They are my friends.' |
| c. PCV isuna .'He/She is a PCV.'           | h. Ania daytoy .'What is this?'            |
| d. Taga Baguio kami .'We are from Baguio.' | i. Mano dayta ?'How much is that?'         |
| e. Adda trabaho tayo .'We have work.'      | j. Kukuak daydiay .'That is mine.'         |

2.3. Expansions of the Subject in Ilokano

The subject of an Ilokano sentence may be expanded in various ways. Note that the ordering of subject + expansion may be rearranged to expansion + subject. Below are the various constituents that may expand an Ilokano subject.

2.3.1. Preposition + Noun Phrases

Prepositions in Ilokano may be classified according to the meaning they add to the noun phrases that they introduce.

(a) Time Time prepositions may be divided into the following:

past	idi 'last' e.g. idi Lunes 'last Monday' Idi maysa nga Lunes 'the other Monday'
present	kada/tunggal 'every' e.g. kada/tunggal Lunes 'every Monday'
future	intono 'on' e.g. intono Lunes 'on Monday'

(b) Location/Direction

idiay 'on, in, at' - As location preposition idiay is used only with non-personal nouns, e.g.,

Dakkel ti palengke idiay ili.
'The market in the town is big.'

adda, adda kadagiti, adda kenni, adda kadagiti 'with'

These location prepositions are used only with personal nouns, e.g.,

Baro ti lapis nga adda idiay ubing.
'The pencil with the child is new.'

The location preposition adda may be used with pronouns. Below is the chart of direction pronouns.

Direction Pronouns

	Singular	Plural
to me	kaniak	to us (dual) kaniata/kadata to us (excl.) kenkuami/kaniami/kadakami to us (incl.) kaniatayo/kadatayo
to you	kenka/kaniam	to you (pl.) kenkuayo/kaniayo
to him/her	kenkuana/kariana	to them kenduada/kaniada

Specific Location:

idiay rabaw ti	'on top of
idiay rabaw ti lamisaan	'on top of the table'
idiay sirok ti	'under'
idiay ruwar ti	'outside'
idiay uneg ti	'inside'
idiay ruwar ti	'outside'
idiay igid ti	'on the side/edge of
idiay aglawlaw ti	'around'
idiay suli ti	'at the corner of
idiay ngato ti	'above'
idiay baba ti	'under'
idiay sango ti	'infront of
idiay likod ti	'behind, at the back of

- (c) Direction - This grouping is different from the location prepositions; while location does not imply movement, direction does, e.g.,

Location: idiay lamisaan 'on the table'

Direction: idiay ubing (to) the child as in "Masurunak idiay ubing".
(at)
(on)

'I'm angry at the child.' i.e. My anger is directed to the child. OR Bagay daytoy idiay ubing. 'This is good on the child.'

*Note that the preposition idiay when used with non-personal nouns has a location meaning with personal nouns, it has a direction meaning.

kenni 'to' - this direction preposition is used with personal names. The plural variant is kada, e.g.,

Maayat ak kenni Anton. 'I'm pleased with Anton.'

BENEFACTIVE PRONOUN

Singular	for me for you for him/her	para kaniak para kenka/kaniam para kenkuana/kaniana
Plural	for us (dual) for us (excl.) for us (incl.) for you (pl.) for them	para kadata/kaniata para kaniami/kadakami para kaniatayo/kadatayo para kadakayo/kaniayo para kadakuada/kaniada

- (d) Possession - Possession prepositions are used only with animate nouns since only living things may be spoken of as possessing things, e.g., ti/dagiti 'of' ... ti is used for non-personal names, e.g.,

'Daytoy ti balay ti ubing. 'This is the house of the child/child's house.'

ni/da - These are used only with personal names:
ni for singular and da for plural. e.g.,

Daytoy ti balay ni Ana. 'This is Ana's house.'
Daytoy ti balay da Ana. 'This is the house of Ana and her companion.'

The possession preposition + noun may be filled by possessive pronouns shown in the chart below.

POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS

Adjective Set		Noun Set
my/mine	ko/'k	kuak/bagik/kukuak
your/yours	mo/'m	kuam/bagim/kukuam
his/her, hers	na	kuana/bagim/kukuana
we (dual)	ta	kuata/bagita/kukuata
we (incl.)	tayo	kuatayo/bagitayo/kukuatayo
we (excl.)	mi	kuami/bagimi/kukuami
your (pl.)	yo	kuayo/bagiyo/kukuayo
their	da	kuada/bagida/kukuada

The pronoun ko and mo have two forms: Ko and 'k. Ko and mo are used after consonant-final words: -k /-m after vowel final words. The form -k/-m is usually attached to the word it follows.

e.g.	sapatos ko	'my shoes'
	sapatos mo	'your shoes'
	libro k	'my book'
	libro m	'your book'

When the pronouns ko and mo follow a word ending in n, the final n disappears and -k or -m is attached to the preceding word. Thus:

kaanakan + ko	kaanakak	'my niece/nephew'
+ mo	kaanakam	'your niece/nephew'

2.3.2. Adjectival Phrases - Noun phrase may be expanded by adjectives (words or phrases). Ilokano adjectives expand noun phrases by adding any of the following meanings:

- (1) quality, e.g., nalagda 'durable' as in nalagda nga balay
'durable house'
- (2) quantity, e.g., maysa 'one' as in maysa nga balay
'one house'
- (3) color, e.g., puraw 'white' as in puraw nga balay
'white house'
- (4) use, e.g., pagsimba 'for church' as in pagsimba nga lupot
'church dress'

Note that the linker nga (or its variant a) is used between the noun phrase and its adjectival expansion.

- 2.3.3. Particles - Noun phrases used as subjects or nominal predicates may be expanded by particles. Below is the chart summarizing these particles.

PARTICLES

Set I : -en/on/n 'already'
 Adda asawa ni Josie.
 'Josie is already married.'

pay 'yet'
 Ubing pay da Stella ken Virgie.
 'Virgie and Stella are still young.'

Notes: The particle en/-n 'already' and pay 'yet' are complementary to each other. en/-n is used in affirmative constructions, pay in negative constructions. on/-n is a clitic. That is to say, it is attached to another word. The form -en is used after consonant-ending words: -n after vowel-ending words.

e.g.	iminom	+	-en	=	imminomen
	'drank'				'drank already'
	innala	+	-n	=	innalan
	'took'				'took already'

PARTICLES

met 'also, too'
Duktor met ni Josie.
'Josie is also a doctor.'

laeng 'only, just'
Idiay balay ak laeng.
'I'll just stay home.'

kano 'expression to indicate indirect quotation' Duktor kano ni Josie.
'(Someone said) Josie is a doctor.'

pay laeng 'meaning temporariness'
Ditoy tayo pay laeng.
'Let's stay here first.'

metten 'meaning a shift in viewpoint or role'
Siak metten.
'It's my turn.'

Note: Kano is used in variation with kuna + pronoun/noun + nga.

e.g. Kuna na nga mapan ni Nena idiay Manila.
'He/She says that Nena will go to Manila.'

Mapan kano ni Nena idiay Manila.
'Somebody says that Nena will go to Manila.'

It is possible to have a long construction with kuna + pronoun/noun + nga and kano.

e.g. Kuna na nga mapan kano ni Nena idiay Manila.
'He/She says that somebody said Nena will go to Manila.'

This would indicate reported speech that goes back to a third speaker.
(Speaker 1 reporting that speaker 2 reported regarding speaker 3's utterance).

Bareng 'expression of hope' has another form barbareng.

e.g. Bareng malakok.
'I hope I can sell (it).'

Barbareng malakok.
'I hope I can sell (it).'

Gayam 'expression of mild surprise at new information or unexpected event/situation

Adda gayam asawan ni Norma.
'(I didn't know that) Norma was married.'

Koma 'expression of hope'

Manok koma ti sida tayo.
'(I wish) chicken is our viand.'

3. The Predicates of an Ilokano Sentence

There are four major predicates of an Ilokano sentence: the nominal predicate, the adjectival predicate, the verbal predicate and the pseudoverbal predicate.

3.1. The Nominal Predicate- The nominal predicate is composed of a noun, words or phrases and their expansions.

3.1.1. Some examples of nouns or words used as nominal predicates are those relating to (1) occupations, e.g. duktor 'doctor' maestra 'teacher'; (2) names of people, places, things; (3) social roles, e.g. gayyem 'friend', kaklase 'classmate'; etc.

E.g.

Amerikano ni Mike.	'Mike is an American.'
Gayyem ko ni Mike.	'Mike is my friend.'
Gloria ti nagan na.	'Her name is Gloria.'

3.1.2. Some nominal predicates consist of noun phrases, i.e. noun or pronouns introduced by prepositions.

E.g.

(a.) Time Nominal Predicates.

Idi Lunes ti miting mi.
'Our meeting was last Monday.'

Tunggal/Kada Dominggo ti panagbisitak idiy Baguio.
'My visit in Baguio is every Sunday'

Intono Lunes ti panaw ko.
'My departure is on Monday.'

(b.) Location Nominal Predicates

Adda idia y ubing ti lapis.
'The pencil is with the child.'

Adda idia y lamisaan ti sabong.
'The flower is on the table.'

Adda kennu Stella ti tulbeg.
'The key is with Stella.'

(c.) Directional Nominal Predicates

Para ti ubing dayta.
'That is for the child.'

Para kaniak dayta.
'That's for me.'

Panggep kada Ana ken Fe ti istorya.
'The story is about Ana and Fe.'

Naggapu idia y site ni George.
'George came from the site.'

The personal markers kenni (singular) and kada (plural) are used in location and direction nominal predicates.

(d.) Possession Nominal Predicates

Para diay ubing dayta.	'That belongs to the child.'
Anak ko ni Anton.	'Anton is my son.'
Kukua na dayta.	'That's his/hers.'
Para kenni Josie ti payong.	'The umbrella is Josie's.'
Ditoy ti balay da.	'Their house is here.'
Adda ditoy ti baboy.	'The pig is (located) here.'

Below is the chart of Location/Direction Pronouns

here	'near speaker	ditoy	adda ditoy
there	'near person spoken to'	dita	adda dita
there	'far from speaker and person spoken to'	idia y	adda idia y

- 3.1.3. Other nominal predicates consist of noun phrases composed of nominalizers (i.e. forms that are capable of changing non-nouns into nouns) + nouns. Ilokano has 2 sets of nominalizers:
1) the subject marker ti and its variants, and 2) existential/possessive: adda, awan, adu.

- 3.1.3.1. Adda (there is, was, will be, to have). This nominalizer adda expresses either the existence or possession of a specific object(s). As a nominal predicate, when the adda phrase expresses the existence of an object, it does not require a subject to co-occur with it in the sentence, e.g.,

Adda bagyo. 'There is a storm.'
Adda klase idi kalman. 'There was school yesterday.'

When the adda phrase expresses the possession of an object, it requires a subject that expresses the ownership of the object, e.g.,

Adda klase ni Ana. 'Ana has school.'
Adda nuang ti mannalon. 'The farmer owns a carabao.'

- 3.1.3.2. Adu (there are, were, will be, to have). Adu is the plural counterpart of adda. In usage, adu is like adda, e.g., to have many Adu tattao idiy Luneta.

'There are many people in Luneta.'

Adu kadi ti bagas ni Pedro?
'Does Pedro have a lot of rice?'

Wen, adu.
'Yes, (he) has plenty.'

- 3.1.3.3. Awan (there is/are no, was/were no, will be none, not to have). Awan is antonymous to adda ken adu. In usage, awan is like adda, e.g., adda and adu.

Awan ti doktor idiy bantay.
'There is/are no doctor(s) in the mountains.'

Awan kadi kuartam?
'Don't you have money?'

Awan/Wen, awan.
'I have none./Yes, I have none.'

3.1.4. Nominal Predicates introduced by nominalizers may be composed of nominalizers + Adjective/Verb/Pseudoverb/may phrase, e.g.,

- |                                  |   |
|----------------------------------|---|
| Adda nanginngina pay ngem dayta. | 'There's (something) more expensive than that.' |
| Adda nagayab kenka.              | 'Someone called you.'                           |
| Awan ti mayat ti durian.         | 'No one likes durian.'                          |
| Adda ti awan ti ID na ditoy.     | 'There are those without ID here.'              |

3.1.5. Expansions of the Nominal Predicate - the nominal predicate being a noun phrase, may be expanded by the same constituents that expand the subject of an Ilokano sentence.

(1) When Nominal Predicate is filled by noun words such as occupation words, etc., it may be expanded by the ff:

(a) preposition +Noun Phrase' e.g.,

Duktor ti puso ni Mike.
'Mike is a heart doctor.'

(b) adjectival phrases, e.g.'

Maysa nga duktor ni Mike.
'Mike is a/one doctor.'

(c) particles, e.g.,

Duktoren ni Mike.
'Mike is already a doctor.'

(2) When the Nominal Predicate is filled by noun phrases, it may be expanded by the following:

(a) Preposition + Noun phrases, e.g.,

Idi Lunes ti alas tres ti miting.
'The meeting was last Monday at 3:00 o'clock.'

Awan ti panunot na ni Jose.
'Jose is out of his mind.'

- (b) Adverbs, e.g.,

Kanayon nga adda kenni Stella ti tulbek.
'The key is always with Stella.'

- (c) Adjectival phrases, e.g.,

Anak ko nga inaudi ni Anton.
'Anton is my youngest son.'

- (d) particles, e.g.,

Adda bagyo gayam.
'Oh, there's a storm.'

3.1.6. PLURALITY OF NOUNS

Plurality in Ilokano can be signalled through the noun by the duplication (doubling) of its first syllable.

e.g.	lib.ro	lib.lib.ro
	'book'	'books'

(In the above example, the dot (.) indicates syllable division). Most often the reduplicated syllable is closed. That is to say, it ends in a consonant (see example above). When the first syllable of the noun ends in a vowel and the second syllable starts with a consonant, the initial consonant of the second syllable is "borrowed" to close the reduplicated syllable.

e.g.	pa.pel	pap.pa.pel
	'paper'	'pieces of paper'
	sa.bong	sab.sa.bong
	'flower'	'flowers'

If the second syllable begins with a vowel, the first syllable is merely repeated.

e.g.	ma.es.tra	ma.ma.es.tra
	'teacher'	'teachers (f)'
	ru.a.ngan	ru.ru.a.ngan
	'door'	'doors'

Most nouns lend themselves to the pluralizing device of reduplication. However, there are a few exceptions like estudiante and nars which do not reduplicate. There is also a small set of nouns which does not follow the general pattern of reduplication described above.

e.g.	ba.la.sang	bab.ba.la.sang	not bal.ba.la.sang
	'lady'	'ladies'
	ta.o	tat.ta.o	not ta.ta.o
	'person'	'persons'

Exceptions of both types are not too plentiful and should be learned as special items.

In a construction consisting of a noun and deictic (noun - deictic), it is possible to express plurality in two ways: plurality of both noun and deictic; plurality of the deictic alone.

e.g.	sabsabong dagitoy	'these are flowers'
	'flowers these'
	sabong dagitoy	'there are flowere'
	'flower these'

But it is incorrect to express plurality thus:

*sabsabong daytoy

(The asterisk before the example indicating that the construction is not acceptable). It should, therefore, be noted that between the noun and the deictic, the more important element for signalling plurality is the deictic. It can express plurality without requiring the plural form of the noun, but the noun cannot be pluralized without the obligatory pluralization of the deictic.

- 3.2. The Adjectival Predicate is composed of an adjective in varying forms and its expansions.

3.2.1. The Forms of the Ilokano Adjective

- (1) Ilokano has two kinds of adjectives: affixed adjectives-connecting of the affix na - base; and the base adjectives.

e.g. (1) affixed adjective

na	+	pintas	napintas
Adjectival affix		'beauty'	'beautiful'

(2) base adjective

pandek	'short'
dakkel	'big'

(2) Comparative Form

Equal : Agkapintas ni Imelda ken Julie.
Kapipintas ni Imelda ni Julie.
'Julie is as pretty as Imelda.'

Unequal : Mas napintas ti UST ngem ti Harvard.
Napinpintas ti UST ngem ti Harvard.
'UST is better than Harvard.'

Saan unay nangina idia y SM ngem idia y Rustan's.
SM is not as expensive as Rustan's.'

(3) Superlative Form

Kapintasan ni Helen.
'Helen is the prettiest.'

(4) Intensive Form

Nasam-it unay ti lansones idia y Laguna.
'Lansones in Laguna is very sweet.'

(5) Exclamatory Form

Nagpintas ka itatta!
'How pretty you are today!'

(6) Moderative Form

Naapgad bassit it danum idia Laguna.
'Water in Laguna is rather salty.'

(7) Plural Form

The Ilokano adjective has a singular and a plural form.

	Singular	Plural
e.g.	napintas 'beautiful'	na.pi.pin.tas
	nadalus 'clean'	na.da.da.lus
	dakkel 'big'	da.dak.kel
	bassit 'small'	ba.bas.sit

(The dot [.] in the example indicates syllable division). There is a small number of adjectives that have the same form for the singular and plural.

e.g.	kulot	'curly'
	asul	'blue'

These items are learned as exceptions.

The singular form of the adjective can have either a singular or plural meaning. The plural form can have only a plural meaning.

e.g.	Naanos ti maestra.	'The teacher is kind.'
	Naanos dagiti maestra.	'The teachers are kind.'
	Na.a.a.nos dagiti maestra.	'The teachers are kind.'

It may be initially difficult to distinguish between the comparative form and the plural form of the adjective. The difficulty may arise from the fact that both forms are signalled by partial reduplication. Partial reduplication means the repetition of the CV or VC syllables of the base.

e.g. partial reduplication:

dakkel	dadakkel
'big'	'big' (plural form)

complete reduplication:

uppat	uppat-uppat
'four'	'four by four', 'by fours'

The reduplication systems for the plural form and the comparative form of the adjective, however, are quite different from each other. The following examples illustrate the differences. (Recall that Ilocano has two types of adjectives: base adjectives and na-affix adjectives).

Adjective	Plural	Comparative
na.pin.tas 'beautiful'	na.pi.pin.tas	na.pin.pin.tas
na.da.lus 'clean'	na.da.da.lus	na.da.la.lus
na.ru.git 'dirty'	na.ru.ru.git	na.rug.rug.git
a.si.deg 'near'	a.a.si.deg	as.a.si.deg
a.ki.kid 'narrow'	a.aki.kid	ak.a.ki.kid
dak.kel 'big'	da.dak.kel	dak.dak.kel

In the above example (.) indicates syllable division and (c) indicates length. The important characteristic of the comparative form is the closed structure of the reduplicated syllable. That is to say, the reduplication ends either with a consonant or with length. When the reduplicated syllable of the base ends in a vowel, the initial consonant of the succeeding syllable is a

"borrowed" to close reduplication (see example). If the succeeding syllable starts with a vowel, the reduplication is "closed" by length.

The plural form generally has an open reduplicated syllable. That is to say, it ends in a vowel. Reduplication consists in the repetition of only the first vowel or the first consonant of the reduplicated syllable of the base regardless of whether or not a consonant follows the vowel.

Another point of difference between the comparative form and plural form is in the stress patterns. The plural form has only one strong stress located in the word base, while the comparative form has two: on the word base and another in the reduplication.

There are some exceptions to the reduplication rules for the plural form and comparative form. These exceptions shall be learned as individual items:

E.g.

Adjectives	Plural	Comparative
ababa 'short'	abab.ba.ba	a.bab.ba.ba
puraw 'white'		pur.pu.raw

3.2.2. The Expansions of the adjectival predicates

Adjectival predicates may be expanded by adverbial phrases, and particle, e.g.,

(a) time adverbs

Mayat itay ti tiempo.
'The weather was fine a few minutes ago.'

(b) intensifying adverbs

Pudno nga kapinpintas ni Imelda ni Julie.
'Julie is really as pretty as Imelda.'

(c) particles

Nagpintas met ti mabuybuya idiay Leyte.
'The scenery in Leyte is also very beautiful.'

3.3.1 Case Relationships - In an Ilokano sentence with a verbal preidcate, the verb is the center and the nouns are tied to the verb by case relations such as the agentive, objective, locative/directional, beneficiary, and instrumental.

- mangan 'eat'      ubing 'child'
agentive

- dalus 'clean'    babai 'woman'    balay 'house'
agentive                          objective (1)

- digos 'bathe'      lalaki 'man'      banyo 'bathroom' agentive                          locative mapan 'go'      lalaki 'man'      talon 'field' agentive                          directional

- gatang 'buy'    nanang 'mother'    gatas 'milk'    ubing 'child'
agentive                      objective      benefactive

- (5) The instrumental case expresses the relation between the verb and the noun which is the force or tool casually involved in the action expressed by the verb.

punas 'wipe'   babai 'woman'   lamisaan 'table'   rigis 'rag' agentive                    locative                    instrumental

- 3.3.2. Case Markers - Case relations are indicated in two places in the sentence: (1) with the nouns (see Chart 1) and (2) with the verbs (see Chart 2).

CHART 1

Cases	Case Markers for Nouns		Pronouns
	Common Noun Marker	Proper Noun Markers	Personal	Demonstrative
1. Agentive	ti	ni/di	ti - Pro	ti - Dem.
2. Objective	ti	kenni/kada	idiay - Pro	ti - Dem.
3. Directional	idiay	kenni/kada	idiay - Pro	idiay - Dem.
4. Locative	idiay	#	#	idiay - Dem.
5. Benefactive	para kenni	para kenni/kada	para kenni - Pro	para kenni - Dem.
6. Instrumental	babaen	#	#	#

- 3.3.2.1. Ni and da are proper noun makers. Ni is the singular form, and da is the plural.

e.g.    ni Paz

da Paz ken Shirley

Ti and dagiti are nominal markers like ni and da.

Ti and dagiti mark common nouns:

e.g.    ti estudiante                    'the students'
           dagiti estudiante                'the students'

ni Pedro                                'Peter' da Pedro ken Juana                'Peter and Jane'

Ti is singular and dagiti is plural. However, this distinction in number is more according to form than according to function. In actual usage dagiti is often contracted to ti so long as ambiguity does not result from this contraction. When there is a possibility of ambiguity in meaning, the full form is used.

e.g. Question: Sino dagiti estudiante?
'Who are the students?'

Response: Da Juan ken Maria ti estudiante.
'Juan and Maria are the students.'

Pis Kor dagiti estudiante.
'The students are Peace Corps Volunteers.'

The marker ti nominalizes an adjective or a verb.

e.g. a) adjective            ababa            ti ababa
                                     'short'            'a/the short one'

Kayat ko it ababa.
'I want the short one.'

3.3.2.2. Diay (from daydiay) is another marker that nominalizes an adjective or a verb.

e.g. Gatangen ni Jane diay puraw.
'Jane will buy the white one.'

Kayat mi diay agtartaray.
'We like the running one.'

CHART 2

Subject	Case Marking Affixes in the Verb
1. Agentive	ag, -um, ma, mang
2. Objective w/o agents	-en, i-, -an
3. Directional	i
4. Locative	pag- + -an, -an
5. Benefactive	i, -an
6. Instrumental	pag

When a case marked noun becomes a subject, the noun drops its case marker and takes on the subject marker ti/ni. Since the subject noun is not marked for case anymore, its case is then indicated in the verb.

- 3.3.2.3. Idiay is a marker for location or direction. It is equivalent to: in, to, at, by in English

e.g. Adda idiay kuarto ti ubing.
'The child is in the room.'

Napan da idiay baybay.
'They went to the beach.'

Idiay kannigid ti Post Office ti Munisipyo.
'At the right of the Post Office is the Municipal Hall.'

- 3.3.2.4. Kenni/Kada are directional markers. Kenni is singular while kada is plural.

e.g. Ited mo ti lapis kenni Roritz.
'Give the pencil to Roritz.'

Naggapu ak kada Ann.
'I came from Ann (and others).'

- 3.3.2.5. Para kenni/Para kada are benefactive markers that may be equated with the English for.

e.g. Para kenni Lina daytoy sabong.
'This flower is for Lina.'

Nagpadaitak ti bado para kada Lyne ken Carol.
'I had a dress sewn for Lyne and Carol.'

ASPECT	AGENTIVE	OBJECTIVE	LOCATIVE/ DIRECTIONAL	BENEFACTIV
	Ag/Um/ Ma/Mang	I/An/En	Pag-an	I-an

I (itaray) In + RV - intaray 2. En (lutoen) Infixation of in - linuto 3. I - i + r (CVC) + RV - itartaray 2. En r (CVC) + RV + en - lutlutuen 3. An r (CVC) + RV + an - lablabaan	Pag + r (CVC) + RV + an - paglablabaan	I + r (CVC) + RV - igatgatanganan
NOT BEGUN	1. agtaray 2. sumangpet 3. maturog 4. mangluto	1. itaray 2. lutuen 3. labaan	paglabaan	igatanganan
RECENTLY COMPLETED	Ka + r (CVC) + RV 1. katartaray 2. kasangsangpet 3. katurturog

3.3.3. Aspects - Ilokano verbs are inflected not for tense (i.e. time when the action takes place) but for ASPECT (i.e., kind of action). According to aspect, Ilokano verbs may have the following forms:

- (1) the completed
- (2) the recently completed
- (3) the not completed
- (4) the not begun

3.3.4. The Infinitive verb - The Ilokano infinitive verb is composed of the verbal affix + the verb root. It is used as a predicate in 2 important sentence constructions:

- (1) predicate in an imperative sentence.
- (2) predicated in a minor sentence conjoined to a major one containing a pseudoverbal predicate.

3.3.4.1. The Imperative sentence - The Ilokano imperative sentence has the following characteristics:

- (1) its predicate is always verbal predicate
- (2) being in the infinitive verb form, the imperative predicate is not inflected for aspect but may be affixed for case, e.g.,

ag + digos as in agdigos ka	'take a bath'
surat + an as in suratanak	'write me'
i + gawang + an as in
igatanganak ti bag	'buy me a bag'

- (3) the agentive noun phrase, whether it be a subject or not in imperative sentence, is always filled by the second person personal pronoun, i.e. ka, mo, e.g.,

Agluto kan.	'Start cooking.'
Daitem daytoyen.	'Sew this.'

3.3.5. Expansions of the Verbal Predicate - Verbal predicates may be expanded by adverbial phrases and particles:

- (a) Manner adverbs - Some manner adverbs modify only the infinitive verbal predicates, e.g.,

Nalaka nga papanan ti site ni Karen.
'Karen's site is easy to reach.'

Nalaing nga agluto ni Anne.
'Anne is a good cook.'

Narigat nga ngalngalen ti karne ti nuang.
'Carabao meat is hard to chew.'

Narigat nga igatangan ni Issa ti baddo.
'Issa is difficult to buy a dress for.'
'It is difficult to buy Issa a dress.'

- (b) Time Adverbs - Verbal predicates are also expanded by adverbs that specify the time and speed of action expressed by verbs, e.g.,

Idi rabii nga pimmanaw ni Paul.
'Paul left last night.'

Rinabii kami nga agpasyar.
'We drive around every night.'

Intono bigat nga sumangpet ni Paul.
'Paul will come home tomorrow.'

Kanayon nga matmaturog ni Nathan.
'Nathan is always sleeping.'

- (c) Particles

Agad-adal pay ni John.
'John is still studying.'

Nanganen ni John.
'John has eaten.'

Agtagtagalog gayam ni Ed.
'Oh, Ed speaks Tagalog.'

- Ilokano has 3 small sets of pseudoverbs:

Set 1	kayat madi	'like, want' 'dislike, hate'
Set 2	masapul mabalin saan mabalin	'need, ought, to, must, should' 'can, may, could, might' 'may not, should not'
Set 3	saan	'do not'

- |                      |   |
|----------------------|---|
| (1) intensive form   | Kaykayat na ti ice cream.'He likes ice cream very much.'  |
| (2) comparative form | Mas kayat na ti ice cream ngem ti halu-halo'He prefers ice cream to halu-halo.'                           |
| (3) superlative form | Kaykayat na unay ti ice cream nga addamarshmallows na.'He likes ice cream with marshmallowsbest.' |

- (1) Case relations with the noun phrase s that co-occur with it in the sentence.

e.g. Kayat ti ubing ti ay-ayam na. 'The child likes the toy.'
   objective

Pseudoverbs, however have a maximum of only 2 case relations: the Agentive and the Objective Noun Phrases. If an idiay marked noun phrase co-occurs with the pseudoverb in the sentence, this noun phrase does not have a locative/directional case relation with the pseudoverb, it is merely an expansion of the NP that precedes it, e.g., e.g. Kayat ti ubing ti ay-ayam idiy SM.

                                     objective

'The child likes the toy in SM.'

Kayat ti ubing + idiy kaaruba ti ay-ayam idiy SM.
                     agentive
                                     objective

'The child from the neighbor's likes the toy in SM.'

(2) Aspect (completed, not completed, not begun)

Only Set 1 pseudoverbs (kayat, madi) may be inflected for aspect.

e.g. Kaykayat 'likes Kinayat 'liked'
       Kayaten 'will/shall like'

3.4.4. When the agentive and objective noun phrase co-occurring with Set 1 Pseudoverbal predicates in the sentence are both + person (e.g., ti ubing) and non-subject, the ordering of the noun phrases is obligatory agentive: objective.

e.g.

Pseudoverb	1	2
Masapul	ni Pedro	ti kadua

objective

However, when the + person objective NP is also the subject in the sentence, the agentive : objective ordering is no longer obligatory.

Pseudoverb	1	2
Masapul	ni Pedro	ni Emy.

agentive

obj=subj

Masapul	ni Emy	ni Pedro.
---------	--------	-----------

obj=subj

agentive

'Pedro needs Emy.'

When the objective = subject NP is filled by a (- person) noun (e.g., ti tuyo) the agentive: objective ordering is again obligatory

Pseudoverb	1	2
Madi	ni Pedro	ti tuyo.

but not

Pseudoverb	1	2
Madi	ti tuyo	ni Pedro.

where the agentive relation between madi and ni Pedro is lost; the noun phrase ni Pedro becomes an expansion of the subject noun phrase ti tuyo. Without an agentive NP, the sentence, thus, becomes ungrammatical.

- 3.4.5. Set 2 Pseudoverbal predicates (mabalin/san mabalin) always require an Agentive=subject NP to co-occur with them in the sentence.

e.g. Mabalin ti ubing idiay sine.
agentive=subject

'Children may (enter) the movie house.'

Saan mabalin ti ubing idiay sine.
agentive=subject

'Children may not (enter) the moviehouse.'

- 3.4.6. Expansions of the Pseudoverbal Predicates

Pseudoverbal predicates may be expanded by any of the constituents that expand adjectival and verbal predicates: preposition + noun phrases, adverbial phrases, and particles, e.g.,

- (a) Preposition + noun phrases

Kayat idi ni Paul ti pepsi.
'Paul used to like pepsi.'

Mabalin ti ubing ti bangbanglok.
'My perfume may be used on children.'

(b) Adverbial phrases

Madiik idi ti ice cream.
'I didn't like ice cream before.'

Masapul unay ni Anne ti aginana.
'Anne really needs rest.'

(c) Particles

Kayat kano ni John ti kape.
'John says he wants coffee.'

Saan mabalin gayam ti magna idiay tengnga ti kalsada.
'Oh, walking in the middle of the road is prohibited.'

4. The basic transformations of an Ilokano Sentence

An Ilokano sentence may be transformed in the following:

- (1) questions
- (2) negations
- (3) ket - statement
- (4) emphatic sentence

4.1. Questions - There are two basic types of questions: the wen/saan question (i.e., a question that can be answered by wen 'Yes' or saan 'No') and the information questions (i.e., those questions that begin with question words such as sino 'who', kaano 'when', ayan/ayanna/sadino 'where', etc.)

4.1.1. The wen/saan question - An Ilokano statement may be transformed into an wen/saan question in two ways:

- (a) by using a rising intonation at the end of the statement

Napudot it itatta. / Napudot itatta?

- (b) by adding the tag question sana kadi after a statement

Nalaka ti Ilokano. / Nalaka ti Ilokano, sana kadi?
'Ilokano is easy.' 'Ilokano is easy, isn't it?'

- (c) by inserting the particle kadi after the predicate of the sentence

Adda bagyo idia y Cagayan.
Adda kadi bagyo idia y Cagayan?

Adda bagyo kadi idia y Cagayan?
Adda bagyo idia y Cagayan kadi?

'There's a storm in Cagayan.'
'Is there a storm in Cagayan?'

- 4.1.2. The Information question - An Ilokano statement may be transformed into an information question by using the question word that will elicit the desired information in the response.

Question Words		Information to be elicited
1. sino	'who'	(+ person) noun phrase
2. ania	'what'	(-person) noun phrase
3. ayan/ayanna	'where'	(+ direction) noun phrase
sadino	'where'	(+location+movement) nphrase
4. mano	'how many'	+ number + ordinal NP
5. kaano	'when'	+ adverb + time noun phrase
6. mano	'how much'	+ cost
7. kasano	'how'	+ measurement
8. ania+ka+dem pron	'which'	+ choice noun phrase
9. makin + noun	'whose'	+ possession noun phrase
10. maika-mano	'what' (in order)	+ number + cardinal NP
11. kasano	'how'	+ manner Adverb/verb
12. naan-ano	'what happened'	+ event Verb/Sentence
13. apay	'why'	+ reason + purpose
14. taga-ano	'from where'	+ location
15. kapin-ano	'how related'	+ relation

| 14. Taga-ano ka?'From where are you?'  | Idiay Texas.'From Texas.'                            |

15. Kapin-anom ni Paz? Kasinsin ko.
'How are you related to Paz?' 'My cousin.'

4.2. Negations - An Ilokano sentence may be transformed into a negative construction by adding the word saan 'not' in front of the predicate of a sentence except when the predicate is an adda noun phrase; in which case, awan 'there' isn't/aren't, weren't is used.

Agpanpanunot ti ubing.      Saan nga agpanpanunot ti ubing.
'The child is thinking.'      'The child is not thinking.'

Adda papanan ni Ana.      Awan ti papanan ni Ana.
'Ana has an appointment.'    'Ana doesn't have an appointment.'

Adda sakit ko.	Awan ti sakit ko.
'I'm sick.'	'I'm not sick.'

Kayat na ti coke.	Saan na kayat ti coke.
'He likes coke.'	'He doesn't like coke.'

Saan na kayat/madi ni Pedro ti pepsi.	Saan nga madi ni Pedro ti Pepsi.
'Pedro dislikes pepsi.'	'Pedro does not dislike pepsi.'

4.3. The Ket - transform

Any Ilokano sentence may be transformed into a ket construction for stylistic variation by moving some constituents of the sentence to sentence - initial position (i.e. in front of the sentence). This movement is indicated by inserting ket behind the constituents that have been moved. The constituents that may be moved to sentence-initial position are the following:

4.3.1. The subject of the sentence

Napintas ni Mila.                      Ni Mila ket napintas.
                  subject
 'Mila is beautiful.'

4.3.2. The expansion of the predicate except the monosyllabic particles, e.g., met, en/n, pay, etc.

Adda silaw idiay balay.    Idiy balay ket adda silaw.
                   pred. expn
 'There's a light in the house.'

- 4.3.3. Any non-subject noun phrase which has a case relation with the verb.

Naglaba ni Ana ti ules.	Ni Ana ket naglaba idia y
subject	karayan ti ules.
idia y karayan .	'Ana washed the blanket in the location NP	river.'

- 4.3.4. If a sentence contains any two of the constituents that may be moved for ket transformation to occur, the sentence can undergo the ket transformation two times.

Nakuttong idi ni Ana .	Idi ket ni Ana ket nakuttong.
Pred. Expn. Subj.

- 4.4. The emphatic sentence - Any Ilokano sentence may be transformed into an emphatic construction (equivalent to the English sentence stress for emphasis) by moving the constituent to be emphasized to sentence-initial position.

- 4.4.1. If the emphasized constituent is the subject of the sentence, the predicate is ti-marked, e.g.,

Duktor ni Ana.	Ni Ana ti duktor.
'Ana is a doctor.'	'Ana is the doctor (not Rose).'

Baro ti kotse na.	Ti kotse na ti baro.
'His car is new.'	'His car is new (not his house).'

Ginatang ko ti payong.	Ti payong ti ginatang ko.
'I bought an umbrella.'	'I bought an umbrella (not a book).'

- 4.4.2. If the emphasized constituent is not the subject of the sentence, the predicate need not be marked by ti, e.g.,

Ginatang ti babai ti payong idia y SM.
'The woman bought the umbrella in SM.'

Idia y SM ginatang ti babai ti payong.
'The woman bought the umbrella in SM (not in Rustan's).'

Adda bagyo idia y Manila.
'There's storm in Manila.'

Idia y Manila ket adda bagyo.
'There's a storm in Manila (not in Cebu).'

PART 2. Combine Sentence Structures

1. Combining sentence by conjunctions

There are two groups of conjunctions in Ilokano that may be used in combining two or more basic sentences: the coordinating and the subordinating conjunctions.

- 1.1. The Coordinating Conjunctions - Ilokano has a number of conjunctions that express varying relations of coordination such as: addition, contrast, choice, and negation.

- a. Nagaget ni Nancy.            'Nancy is hardworking.'
b. Nalaing ni Nancy.           'Nancy is intelligent.'

The identical elements of sentences (a) and (b) are ni Nancy while the non-identical elements are the adjectival predicates nagaget and nalaing. In this case, one of the ni Nancy elements must be deleted and the two non-identical elements are connected by the appropriate, i.e. logical connected ken "and" as in:

Nagagaet ken nalaing ni Nancy.
'Nancy is hardworking and intelligent.'

Clearly the relationship between the original sentence (a) and (b) is one of addition, thus ken, since the qualities of hardworking and intelligent are complementary and are both positive.

If the sentences were:

- c. Napintas ni Ana.            'Ana is pretty.'
d. Tabbed ni Ana.            'Ana is dumb.'

It will be wrong and illogical to use the coordinating conjunction of addition ken here. The resultant sentence

Napintas ken tabbed ni Ana.    'Ana is pretty and dumb.'

is illogical. The qualities of being pretty and dumb is in contrast with each other; being pretty is a positive quality while being dumb is a negative quality. The logical connector for these sentences (c) and (d) is ngem 'but' as in Napintal ngem tabbed ni Ana.    'Ana is pretty but dumb.'

Below are the Ilokano coordinating conjunctions with the relationships that they express.

- (1) Ken 'and' for addition

Napudot idiaɣ lugar mi.	'It is hot in my place.'
Natapok idiaɣ lugar mi.	'It is dusty in my place.'

Combined sentence:

Napudot ken natapok idiaɣ lugar mi.
'It is hot and dusty in my place.'

- (2) Santo 'and then' for addition showing sequence of events

Napan isu idiaɣ Post Office.	'He went to the Post Office.'
Napan isu idiaɣ palengke.	'He went to the market.'

Combined sentence:

Napan isu idiaɣ Post Office santo idiaɣ palengke.
'He went to the Post Office and then to the market.'

- (3) Tapno 'and so' for addition showing result of first event

Agadal ka.	'Study.'
Saan ka marigatan ti biag mo.	'You won't have difficulty in life.'

Combined sentence:

Agadal ka tapno saan ka marigatan ti biag mo.
'Study and so you won't have difficulty in life.'

- (4) Saan laeng ....ngem ....pay 'not only...but....but also'

Napintas isuna.	'She's pretty.'
Nalaing isuna.	'She's intelligent.'

Combined sentence:

Saan laeng nga napintas isuna ngem nalaing pay.
'She's not only pretty by also intelligent.'

Naimas ti lansones.	'Lansones is delicious.'

Combined sentence:

Kayat mo ti kape?	'Do you want coffee?'
Kayat mo ti tsa?	'Do you want tea?'

Combined sentence:

Kayat mo ti kape wenno tsa?
'Do you want coffee or tea?'

- (7) Uray....uray 'neither....nor' for negation

Saanak am-ammo.	'He does not know me.'
Saanka am-ammo.	'He does not know you.'

Combined sentence:

Uray siak, uray sika saan na am-ammo.
'He knows neither you nor me.'

- 1.2. The Subordinating Conjunctions - Ilokano has several conjunctions expressing relations of subordination between or among sentences of unequal importance. The important sentence is usually the lead sentence followed by the subordinate sentence introduced by a subordinating conjunction, that expresses its relationship to the important sentence. Below are the Ilokano subordinating conjunctions with relationships that they express.

- (1) Ngamin 'because' for reason
Gaputa 'because of'

Nalandingit ni Pedro.	'Pedro is sad.'
Natay ti kalding na.	'His goat died.'

Combined sentence:

Naladingit ni Pedro ngamin natay ti kalding na.

Combined sentence:

'He was doing something so he couldn't go to your party.'

2. Combining sentences by embedding

Embedding is a term used to refer to the process of inserting a sentence in another sentence. In English, embedding is the process that results in relative clauses. For example, the sentence below:

Combined sentence: I met the man whom you talked about.

consists of two sentence: (a) I met the man.
(b) You talked about the man.

To embed sentence (b) in sentence (a), they should share an identical element - in this case, "the man". If sentence (b) is to be embedded in sentence (a), the element "the man" should be deleted and replaced by a relative pronoun, in this case "whom" and is moved next to the element "the man" in sentence (a), thus arriving at the combined sentence above.

In Ilokano, the same process applies. For example, the sentences below:

(a) Sadut diay lalaki. 'The man is lazy'.
(b) Aggigiyan idia y turod diay lalaki. 'The man lives on the hill.'

can be combined by embedding (a) into (b), as in,

Combined sentence: Sadut diay lalaki nga aggigiyan idia y turod.
'The man who lives on the hill is lazy.'

However, unlike in English where appropriate relative pronouns are used to indicate the point at which embedding occurs, in Ilokano, only the linker nga/a is used. This use of the linker demonstrates, that the embedded sentence acts like a modifier, much like an expansion of the retained identical element in the other sentence.

With the combined sentences in our examples, observe that the point of embedding occurs either way in the subject of the sentence. This is possible because the identical elements are the subjects of sentences (a) and (b).

PART 3: Sentence with Verbal Predicates Containing Derivational Affixes

Introduction - Sentences with verbal predicates containing derivational affixes are separately treated here as they involve certain meaning considerations different from those used in ordinary discourses or conversations.

Derivational affixes in Ilokano are classified as follows:

1. Causative : -pa-
2. Associative : -ki-
3. Abilitative : -ka-
4. Intensive : -pag-

1. The Causative -pa-

Sentence with causative verbs have one special characteristic: they contain two agents; the causing agent and the natural agent. The causing agent does not do the action expressed by the verb - it causes someone (the natural agent) to carry out the action expressed by the verb.

In all sentences with causative verbs, the causing agent expresses the agentive relation with the verb; the natural agent expresses the direction related with the verb.

E.g. Nagluto ni Anna ti adobo. 'Ana cooked adobo.'
natural agent obj.

Nagpaluto ni Ana kenni Gloria ti adobo. 'Ana caused Gloria to causing agent natural agent object cook adobo.

Causative verbs may be intentional or non-intentional. The intentional causative verb expresses the intent of the causing agent to influence the natural agent to carry out the action expressed by the verb. The non-intentional causative verb expresses the lack to intention on the part of the causing agent to influence the natural agent to carry out the action expressed by the verb. Below is a Chart that summarizes the intentional and non-intentional causative verbal affixes in Ilokano. Basically, the causative pa affix is attached to the case marking affixes of the verb.

Causative Verbal Affixes

Case Relations	Intentional	Non-intentional
Agentive	agpa-	maipa -an
Objective	Ipa-/pa -en
Locative	Pagpa -an
Benefactive	Ipa -an
Instrumental	Pagpa

- 1.1 The agpa causative verb - With the agpa- affixed verb, the causing agent is the subject of the sentence. The natural agent may or may not be overtly expressed.

e.g. Agpagatang ni Ana kenni Pedro ti bayong.
causing agent natural agent object

'Ana caused Pedro to buy "bayong".

Nagpagatang ni Ana ti bayong.
causing agent object

'Ana had a "bayong" bought by Pedro.'

- 1.2 The Pa--en causative verb - With the pa- -en affixed verb, the natural agent is the subject of the sentence.

e.g. Pagatangen ni Ana ni Pedro ti bayong.
causing agent natural agent object

'Pedro was caused by Ana to buy "bayong".'

The first NP is the causing agent while the second NP is the natural agent.

- 1.3 The Ipa- causative verb - With the Ipa- affixed verb, the object NP is the subject of the sentence.

e.g. Ipagatang ni Ana kenni Pedro ti bayong.
causing agent natural agent object

'Ana cause Pedro to buy bayong.'

- 1.5 The Pagpa--an causative verb - With the pagpa- -an affixed verb, the location or Direction NP is the subject of the sentence.

e.g. Pinagpaitadan ni Ana kenni Mario ni Vicky ti gulay.
causing agent natural agent Direction object

'Vicky was caused to be given vegetables by Ana through Mario.'

'Ana caused Mario to give vegetables to Vicky.'

- 1.6. The Ipa- -an causative verb - With the ipa- -an affixed verb, the beneficiary NP is the subject of the sentence.

causing agent natural agent beneficiary object

'Ana caused Mario to buy coke for Jep.'

- 1.7. The Pagpa- causative verb - With the pagpa- affixed verb, the instrument NP is the subject of the sentence.

e.g. Pagpaputud ni Ana kenni Mario ti mula ti dakkal nga kartib.
causing agent natural agent object instrument

'Ana caused Mario to cut the plant with the big scissors.'

2. The Associative -ki

Associative verbs always select the agent NP as the subject of the sentence and place the direction NP in an associative relationship with the agent NP.

- 2.1. The maki- With the maki- verb, the agent NP is the subject of the sentence.

e.g. Nakisao ak kenni Ana. 'I pleaded with Ana.'
agent direction

Nakimadyong ak kada Ana.
agent direction

'I played mahjong with Ana and company.'

- 2.2. When attached to the causative pa-, the associative verbs select the subject following the rules for the causatives.

- 2.2.1. Maki-inn With the maki-inn verbs, the agent NP and the direction NP have a natural associative relationship with each other.

Makisinnurat ak kenni Joy.
doer direction

(Joy and I will write to each other.)

2.2.2. Paki-an - With this verb, the location NP is the subject of the sentence, and there are generally three senses in which the paki...an construction is used.

(a) Place for the participative activity

Sadino ti pakikuyugam kenkuana?
'Where do you go with him?'

(b) 'reason for' when used with ania

(Literally: What's the reason for your going with him?)

(c) person or party with whom the activity is performed.

Makaluto ka kadi?

'Will you be able to cook?'

doer object

'Will Lina be able to cook "pinakbet" now?'

3.3. Mapag-an - The location is the subject of the sentence.

'The stove can be used for cooking (already).'

- 3.4. Mai -an - The beneficiary NP is the subject of the sentence.

Naidaitan ni Roritz    ni Shirley    ti bado.
actor/doer    beneficiary    object

'Roritz was able to sew Shirley a dress.

Notice that the first NP is the doer while the second NP is the beneficiary.

- 3.5. Maipag - The instrument NP is the subject of the sentence.

Maipagkali ni Jose    diay baretan.
actor    instrument (tool)

'Jose was able to use the crowbar (already).
